Continue to Stay Connected & Support

With the closure of businesses all around we are all feeling the COVID-19 effects. For public art galleries, museums, tourist destinations, and other arts and culture organizations, it is vital to many of these who are reliant on community support that we also keep in mind their importance and the colourful role they play in society. The financial and social distancing impacts of COVID-19 could jeopardize the sustainability of many of these public, not-for-profit and charitable organizations. With exhibits, programs and fundraisers cancelled, and the doors closed for sales, the LAC is greatly affected. If you are in a position to do so, you can help to support the LAC during these times and you can do so from home and online. You may want to consider renewing or taking out a new membership to the LAC, making a charitable income tax donation, legacy or planned giving, sponsoring an exhibition space or an event, such as Arts @ the Marina. Artists, you may want to consider a solo exhibit, or take this time to prepare artwork to enter into a group exhibit later in 2020. And to all, please continue to be safe at home and please follow, like and share the LAC on Facebook and Instagram as we post updates and links to other online art activities and entertainment.

BANK NOTES

Dear Patrons, Volunteers and Supporters of The Bank Theatre,

The COVID-19 crisis is having an unprecedented effect on all of us in our community. Now more than ever, we need to continue to listen to our government and health officials advice to keep our residents, tourists and performers safe. To do that, The Bank Theatre is officially closing our doors until further notice. As a non profit charitable organization, this is devastating to all involved, however it is important that we keep our Board of Directors, Volunteers and Patrons safe as this unfolds.

UPCOMING EVENTS

UNKNOWN, POSTPONED, RESCHEDULING, HELD REMOTELY

- DALE'S FRIDAY COFFEE HOUSE
- THE FLY FISHER'S COMPANION
- BOARD MEETINGS, COMMITTEE MEETINGS, AGM

HOW CAN YOU HELP THE BANK THEATRE

- Purchase a gift certificate from our website to be used at a later date.
- Make a donation to The Bank Theatre. A tax receipt will be emailed to you.
- Stay Home, Stay Safe, Stay Well

The Bank Theatre Board of Directors wishes everyone the best in health and utmost safety during this health crisis. We can prevent the spread of this virus by doing this together, staying home and staying healthy.

NEW SCREENING AT ERIE SHORES HEALTHCARE

The entrance at Erie Shores HealthCare has a new screening trailer set up for members of the public who need to enter the hospital. You will be asked a series of questions to determine if you are at risk before being allowed to enter the building. As of press time, visitors are not allowed unless special arrangements have been made for palliative care, maternity or ICU patients. Contact Erie Shores HealthCare at 519-326-2373 extension 4481 for information. (Sun photo)

Province launches Learn at Home program

TORONTO — The province of Ontario has launched their Learn at Home program on their website, with content and links to other content for all ages of school children, from kindergarten to high school.

“While these materials do not replace what students have been learning at school, during this unusual time, these at-home activities offer quick and easy access to some of Ontario’s best online learning resources,” the website states.

There are three sections on the website: Elementary Students, High School Students, and Parents, Guardians or Caregivers.

There is also a French version for those who are enrolled in French learning.

The links vary from educational programs to resources for parents to cope with the home schooling aspect of life.

The resource is being used by many parents already.

There is also a link to TV Ontario, which has numerous programs that are fun and educational in nature.

Visit www.ontario.ca/page/learn-at-home to get started.

Five confirmed cases in Windsor-Essex, Chatham-Kent

At press time, there were three confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Windsor-Essex and two in Chatham-Kent. Both the Windsor-Essex County Health Unit and Chatham-Kent Public Health Unit are awaiting test results for several more, but do not have any further confirmations at this time.

They advise to keep practicing physical and social distancing, wash your hands several times a day, cough and sneeze into the crook of your elbow and stay home unless you absolutely have to go out.

The community spread of this disease is what is causing the vast numbers we are seeing in other countries. We can do our part now to keep our corner of the world from becoming like those other countries.

If you’ve travelled outside of Canada, you must self-isolate immediately upon your return.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my loving husband and best friend

DAVE COOPER (COOP)

Who passed away ten years ago March 25, 2010

God saw you getting tired, a cure was not to be,
 So he put His arms around you, and whispered, “Come to me.”
 Always on my mind, Forever in my heart.
 Love Dorothy and Family

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory of
